

Hey,

I read it and it didn't feel anticlimactic at all. To be honest, I'm just glad that you found your way here, and that I can hear about your life. I'm glad to hear that Ricardo is making you so happy. You deserve to be happy. Funny how it all went. Isn't it? I told you 2022 would be your year. Truly, I'm happy for you.

Now, I'm going to talk about my thoughts again.

This time I'm gonna talk about something I don't want to work on. It's a big case. Most of the details are classified. And I don't want to work on this case because, it's not a good case. It's unethical. Also, I have a million other things to do. But for a certain reason I can't move forward with my work unless I finish this case. So, I realized that to get rid of this case, I have to finish it. Even though it sucks. Once I've finished it, I can be done with it, and put it behind me.

That might've sounded really vague. Unfortunately, I cannot really give you more details. It just sucks. Also, this case is gonna take me probably 24 hours, and I need it done by Sunday. And even when I finish the case, I have to finish all my other cases too. And if I fuck up one, I am done here.

I probably should be working on that case right now, but I really had to write you a letter first. Not gonna lie, I'm actually kinda tired man. I want to do dumb stuff. Anton texted me a couple of days ago that there was some kind of party where I had to be, but I was in London, buried in paperwork. Makes you think about what you're doing is the right thing. I'm sure you know how I feel. We've talked about it once, but it was about you working at backwerk.

Anyway, I'm doing all right.

Love you

Xx, jer
